Quality of Life Improvement

I have been suffering from what my doctors have told me is a horrible case of eczema since I was four, constantly scratching and unable to have "healed" legs that look normal. I remember having to wear socks on my hands and Vaseline on my legs all the time. Every doctor I went to told me I would "grow out of it," and that day still hasn't come. I wanted to hide so no one could ever see or touch my legs

Experiencing MicroSilk®: I have been working in the plumbing industry for about a decade and had the opportunity to place my legs in a mini-MicroSilk tub at the Jason International headquarters in February of 2011. Immediately after the experience, the redness in my skin was gone, and my skin was smoother! And, a full day later, I had NOT scratched my legs! I did not even feel that URGE to scratch, which was unbelievable to me.

After my first treatment, I had a stressful flight home—a time when I would typically begin to itch and scratch. MicroSilk was so effective that I still didn't scratch! My husband even noticed that I didn't scratch my legs once I arrived home!

Life with MicroSilk: I installed a MicroSilk bath in my home and keep up with a regular daily bathing routine to improve the quality and appearance of my skin and prevent itching.

Clean, moisturized skin is the ultimate feeling! Just like any preventative topical or oral medication, I keep up with it and no longer feel that I have to hide my skin from others.

Beyond the incredible improvement in my skin, I enjoy the twenty minutes of soothing therapy—who doesn't deserve twenty minutes a day in complete relaxation?
