HYDROTHERAPY BENEFITS

SOAKING HYDROTHERAPY

Like a cup of hot tea, a soaking bath is very relaxing. Submerging in warm water hydrates the skin, making it feel softer. Soaking hydrotherapy stimulates your skin’s contact and temperature receptors to promote relaxation, increase circulation, and open pores to release toxins. Like a cup of hot tea, a soaking bath is very relaxing. Submerging in warm water hydrates the skin, making it feel softer. Soaking hydrotherapy stimulates your skin’s contact and temperature receptors to promote relaxation, increase circulation, and open pores to release toxins.

WHIRLPOOL HYDROTHERAPY

Soaking is a form of hydrotherapy. It offers the benefits of warm water and the addition of jets that provide a gentle form of massage. Whirlpool therapy stimulates the surface skin receptors on the skin. The strong, rolling water flow and the cream of it help contribute to an overall feeling of relaxation and decreased muscle tension. The Jason’s Perfect Pressure / Perfect Flow jets are perfectly located and directed at the key muscle groups vulnerable to stress, soreness and “guarding” allowing them to soothe the mind and soothe muscle pain. Research indicates that oxygen improves collagen production. MicroSilk®infuses the skin with oxygen and the comfort of heat contribute to an overall feeling of relaxation and decreased muscle tension.

MicroBubble®

Feel as light as a cloud when billions of tiny bubbles form a milky, oxygen-rich bath which gives your skin new life. HYDROTHERAPY BENEFITS

Like a cup of hot tea, a soaking bath is very relaxing. Submerging in warm water hydrates the skin, making it feel softer. Soaking hydrotherapy stimulates your skin's contact and temperature receptors to promote relaxation, increase circulation, and open pores to release toxins.

MICROSILK HYDROTHERAPY

Feel as light as a cloud when billions of tiny bubbles form a milky, oxygen-rich bath which gives your skin new life. It will stimulate healthy skin cell growth by improving the skin metabolism and reducing the migration behind the bath. Not required if the bath has an integral tile lip.

WHIRLPOOL HYDROTHERAPY

Like an invigorating massage, air bubbles enter the bath through strategically spaced jets and stimulate the surface receptors on the skin. The strong rolling water flow and the comfort of heat contribute to an overall feeling of relaxation and decreased muscle tension. The Jason's Perfect Pressure / Perfect Flow jets are perfectly located and directed at the key muscle groups vulnerable to stress, soreness and "guarding" allowing them to soothe the mind and body, promote and improve sleep, and reduce tension and stress.
